Thera Interactive is an indie studio founded in early 2022. The founder and head of the studio is indie developer Sergey Kachmar. We are developing World of Sea Battle, an MMO game with an open-world setting in the era of sails and pirates. Our game features historical sail ships, a dynamic economy created by the players, guild wars, an open world, and the spirit of maritime adventures! We are a small international team (less than 50 people). We are gamers and we are in love with our product. Today the game has more than 100,000 registered users and a daily average of 1,000-1,500 online, which suggests that not only are we enjoying the game. We have the most ambitious goals. If you are ready to conquer the world, welcome aboard! We are looking for a developer to join our team of enthusiasts!

Задачи

What you will be doing:

- Implement new features, including server logic, gameplay mechanics, UI, and visual effects
- Suggest game optimizations and implement them
- Work neatly with legacy code
- Involved in the development of infrastructure parts: we have a telegram bot, metrics, assembly of game components, and other interesting things

Tech stack:

- NET7 + C#
- FNA
- Client-server architecture

Требования к кандидату

We expect that you:

- Understand well C# under the hood (you can add that experience from 2 years)
- Understand algorithms and data structures
- Understand math and ready to delve into game logic
- Can ask questions: we do not have a systematic analyst, but we have an owner open for dialogue
- Feel good about rapidly changing startup processes
- The Russian language must have!

Условия работы

- Investing in you
- Competitive salary
- Option to work remotely
- Be part of a great product
- Zero bureaucracy
